THE ELECTION.

A Quiet Day and Light Vote.

Tuesday being election day the saloons were closed and the streets presented a very quiet appearance, and so few people gathered about the voting places in the central part of the city that a stranger would not have known anything unusual was going on. The vote in the city fell considerably short of the registration, but in the county a tolerably fair vote was cast. Below we give the vote between the candidates for Congress and County Judge:

Heart Disease Curable.

The truth of this statement may be doubted by many, but when Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent Indiana specialist, claims that heart disease is curable, and points to his thousands of testimonies of wonderful cures by his new heart cure, it attracts the attention of the millions suffering with short breath, palpitation, irregular pulse, wads in stomach, pain in heart, etc., and especially those fainting, dropping, &c. A. F. Davis, Silver Creek, Nebraska, by using four bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, was completely cured after twelve years suffering from heart disease. This wonderful remedy is sold by J. W. Gayle. Books free.

Meets Tuesday Evening.

The Board of Education will meet on Tuesday evening next when the question of reopening the city schools will come up.

Large Crowd Here.

The largest court day crowd which has been here for several months was in town Monday, Main and St. Clair streets presented a lively appearance and you could buy most anything on the street, from a dead man's clothes to a piano or a steam engine, but most of the people were too busy talking politics to think of much else and prices ruled low. Hon. W. C. Owens addressed a large crowd at the Court House in the afternoon, winding up his canvass as a candidate for Congress. W. H. Posey, Master Commissioner, sold the following property: The west end of the Mansion House block, fronting forty-six feet on Main street, to R. Tobin for $4,077.50.

A Physician

Seldom recommends a proprietary medicine. A great many use Household Remedies both in their families and in their practice. Dr. N. L. Reynolds, of Eureka, Ill., writes that he has had occasion to use Dr. Hale's Household Ointment in several cases but found that it has few equals. He writes he has also used the Dr. Hale's Household Tea in his own family and finds it is so good that he cannot afford to do without it. It is the great blood purifier and nerve tonic. Positively cures dyspepsia, catarrh, rheumatism, &c., $5 and 55 cents per package at P. H. CARPENTER's drug store.

Election Echoes.

Editor Roundabout:

In the case of Batman vs. McGowan (1 Metcalfe, 533) and of Cox vs. Nash (1 Bush, 201; 14 Bush, 668), where two of the county board appointed by law to count the votes cast at an election a.e. candidates for office, they can not act, and their places must be supplied by the two magistrates nearest the county seat. This does not seem to have been done in this county. Why?

In the Gas House precinct, in the city contested election case, Judge Williams took the ground that the officers could not amend their returns after leaving the polling place. He appears to have changed his opinion in the recent election as to the Benson precinct. He also seems to have forgotten to appoint Mr. Wm. Wright as judge at the Capital Hotel precinct in place of Mr. Boone, a candidate, as he agreed to do.

The refusal to allow a repre- sentative of Judge Denny to witness the count of the certificates of election was singular, to say the least. The law does not au- thorize such refusal. It designates who shall make the count, but does not require nor intimate that their proceedings shall be secret. The fact that the law does not give a right to demand to be present does not justify the refusal of a common courtesy.

Judge Hoke, at Louisville, did considerable damage to his party by similar partisan proceedings.

TIDAL WAVE.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

Every Member of Hiram Lodge, Attention.

There will be a called meeting of Hiram Lodge, No. 4. A. Y. M., on Monday evening next at 7:30 o'clock in the north hall of the Odd Fellows Temple, at which a matter of great importance to the craft will be considered. Every member of the Lodge is earnestly requested to be present, and visiting brothers fraternally invited to attend.

"She."

A fine treat is in store for the amusement loving people next week. A. Y. Pearson's big scenic production "She," will be the attraction at the Opera House, Friday night, November 16th. The dramatization of "She" as presented by Mr. Pearson's company, is from the pen of Mr. Edwin Barbour, author of the "Legal Document," "The Land of the Midnight Sun" and "The District Fair," and is said to be the finest ever produced; the scenes and situations are grand. The story as told by Hagard is developed in every particular, and the strange characters, only heard of in fiction, are depicted in real life.

Haigard's story opens in the nineteenth century, while Mr. Barbour's goes beyond and opens his play 440 years before Christ, giving to the public the characters in life that Hagard only mentioned as mythical. The mechanical effects are startling, showing a real live person slipping into a volcanic flame, and in an instant, before the very eyes, is shriveled into a mummy. The scenery used in the play is the handsomest ever painted for a production of this kind, and covers some 16,000 feet of canvas. The company, numbering twenty-five people, are picked from the best ranks of the profession and are selected for their individual ability, to portray the characters for which they are cast. The play has an abundance of comedy that keeps the audience in good humor throughout and, with several small specialties introduced, the performance cannot but be pleasing to all.

The bride, who is one of the most charming young ladies of Cedar Run, was lovely attired in light grey serge and carried white chrysanthemums, the groom was dressed in the usual black. The church, which was dark and had the lamps lighted, was handsomely decorated with evergreen and cut flowers. FAST FRIENDS.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

MESSRS. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for more than 40 years, and in this time, in my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effects are wonderful and would lead me to the conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,

L. C. BURGESS, M. D.

Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

Fac-simile of artists' original designs.

MISS IRINE JEROME'S happy family in grouping and interpreting beautiful thoughts by means of colored and illuminated designs is highly appreciated by all book-buyers and her work is welcomed by all lovers of the beautiful. Her precious creations "One Year's Sketch-book," "Nature's Hallelujah," "A Bunch of Violets," "In a Fair Country," "Sun prints in Sky tints," "The Message of the Bluebird" and "From an Old Love-letter" are the popular illustrated books published in this century, and welcomed by people of artistic taste in all walks of life. And now, following her late success in illuminated color work "I have called you Friends" we have a new revelation of the resources of her genius, and one well adapted to grace and beautify the beloved homes of our land.—Lee & Shepard, Publishers, Boston.

Haunted!

A haunted house in these practical and unromantic days is something of a rarity, but an individual haunted with the idea that his all men, women and children are possessed of evil with. Disease is in the ability of medicine to cure is only a mild form of monomania, although in some cases repeated failures to obtain relief from many different sources would suggest something more. Now, Doctor's Stomach Bitters has demonstrated its efficacy in the deepest forms of disease of liver and kidney, from maladies and nervousness, and its record achievement in the cure of consumption, warrant its trial by anyone troubled with either of the above ailments, even although his previous efforts have been fruitless. Used with persistence, the Bitters will conquer the most obstinate cases.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Publ.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 10, 1894.

Sure Reward for the Observance of the Sabbath.

See 58th chapter of Isaiah, 13th and 14th verses.

"If thou turn away thy feet from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on My holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honorable; and shalt honor Him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure nor speaking thine own words."

"Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause the high places of the earth and feed thee on the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

Sunday Closing.

They err who think the present effort to stop business in Frankfort on Sunday has in it any spirit of force or dictation. It rests purely on the ground of "free consent." The merchants are closing of their own free will, and are entering voluntarily into such an agreement with each other. And they are doing it cheerfully and heartily. Even the jaw is not invoked to aid the movement. On the part of our citizens all that is asked is, that they thoughtfully lay in their Sunday supplies on Saturday and keep on doing it till it becomes chronic and habitual with them. After all the permanent success of the movement is dependent on them. If they will so change their habits as to abstain from all Sunday traffic, Sunday closing will be assured. We earnestly urge them to do so. There is no need of any but the kindest feeling in regard to the matter, and we do not anticipate that so good a work, commanding so unusually the approval of this community, will be at all liable to failure.

Large Vegetables.

Mr. Z. T. Parrent, of Bridgeport, brought to this office on Tuesday the largest home-grown head of cabbage we have seen in a long time, and is a wonderful production for the dry season we have had. It measured three feet around, weighed seven pounds and was as solid as a brick. Now if there is anything that Mrs. ROUNDABOUT does love, and which brings out the German in her composition more strongly than anything else, it is cabbage, and when we took that great big head home, Taylor, you should have seen her smile. It would have done your heart good. She has been feasting on it ever since and returns numerous thanks.

Mr. L. Hawkins, of the same neighborhood, also brought us a mammoth turnip raised by himself which measured two feet around. It was of the Flat Dutch variety, sweet and finely flavored. It was large enough to furnish several dishes for our table.

Until a More Convenient Time.

The King Bridge Company, their representative or sub-contractor, who has been at work since early in the summer removing the old St. Clair street bridge piers from the river, quit work on the job Saturday, having taken down the middle pier to the right depth, according to the city engineer's measurement, but left the piers nearest the shores about eighteen inches or two feet higher than the depth to which the contract requires them to be removed. The claim is made on the part of the company that hands cannot be employed to work in the water this time of the year and that the work will have to be completed during warm weather next year. The work has been done in the slowest and hardest way, and we understand that some of the hands have not been paid for several weeks' work performed.

If this is true, it must be the real reason that hands cannot be employed. The city is still holding back twenty-seven hundred dollars due the company on account of the new bridge, and it would be a good idea to hold on to it, for it looks like the city or the Government will have to remove the balance of the piers, if they are ever taken out. The city and county have gotten the hot end of the bargain in nearly all their transactions with the King people and it appears very much as if this part of the contract was to be dropped on them.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 10, 1894.

To —

Through the fields the brooklets playing
Murmur gently as they flow;
Canst thou tell what they are saying—
Whispered words of peace or woe?
And the hills and the mountains, the springs—
What secrets of merry birds,
The birds hast listened to their singing;
Hast thou put the notes to words?
At the dawn the roses drinking
Nectar from the sparkling dew;
Hast thou passed them by unblinking—
Hast thou seen them?—
At the day in splendor breaking—
Yes there secrets thou canst prove,
All the world is daily speaking,
If thy heart is filled with love.

Assaulted by a Brute.

Mr. Mack Blaney, of this city, who is a student of Centre College, Danville, attended the game of foot ball between the Centre College team and Louisville Athletic Club in Louisville Saturday. A row occurred among the players, when the crowd rushed on the grounds. Mack went along and of course yelled for his side, when a big fellow by the name of Perdue, one of the Louisville players who had been hurt and put out of the game, singled him out and ordered him off the field. Mac told him to put him off, when the fellow struck him and Mack whacked him over the head with his cane until he broke the stick. The pity is he did not break the brute's head instead, as he is nothing but a boy and the attack on him was cowardly.

Very Brief.

I hereby appoint the last Thursday of this month a Thanksgiving day. "In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider." Ecclesiastes vii, 14.

From

High Government Authority.

No authority of greater experience on food products exists than Dr. Henry A. Mott, of New York. Dr. Mott's wide experience as Government Chemist for the Indian Department, gave him exceptional opportunities to acquaint himself with the qualities and constituent parts of baking powders. He understands thoroughly the comparative value of every brand in the market, and has from time to time expressed his opinion thereof. On a recent careful re-examination and analysis he finds superior to all others in strength, purity, and efficiency. Dr. Mott writes —

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

"New York, March 20th, 1894.
I find Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be superior to all others, for the following reasons:—

1st. It liberates the greatest amount of leavening gas and is consequently more efficient.

2nd. The ingredients used in its preparation are of the purest character.

3rd. Its keeping qualities are excellent.

4th. On account of the purity of the materials and their relative proportions, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder must be considered the acme of perfection as regards wholesomeness and efficiency, and I say this having in mind certificates I have given several years ago respecting two other baking powders.

The reasons for the change in my opinion are based on the above facts and the new method adopted to prevent your baking powder from caking and deteriorating in strength.

DISAPPEARING.

The Dreadful Disease, Diphtheria, has Nearly Left the City.

The diphtheria epidemic which has prevailed here for several months, is passing away—only two cases yet remain, both of which are in South Frankfort and are convalescent—no new cases have made their appearance in more than a week and there no longer remains cause for the alarm felt by many. The country people, who have been kept away from town on account of the disease prevailing here, can come to the city with impunity as there is not the slightest danger of their carrying seeds of the disease home to their little ones. The city to-day is as healthy as any place of its size in the country, the business part of town has had but two cases in it, both of which have entirely recovered, the houses in which they occurred have been thoroughly disinfected, and our country friends can feel perfectly safe in coming to see us. Come in and buy your fall supplies from our merchants and liven up business again.

Made a Fine Race.

The race: Mr. McKenzie Todd made for magistrate is certainly a very creditable one, considering the fact that he had two candidates in his own party running against him and also a campaign in which money and other sinews of war were prominent features of the opposition.

His opponent, Mr. Gaines', majority, according to the official count, is 111 votes, and fully 200 Republican votes were not cast.

It is the common expression among the members of all parties that Mr. Todd's race was phenomenal. This only goes to show what a young man can do when he conducts a campaign in an honorable way.

Mr. Todd's friends in both parties are proud of his race and it has caused much comment on our streets.

Mr. Todd will now settle down to the practice of his profession and will shortly open an office in the Todd building, near the new bridge. He is a graduate of the Law Department University of Michigan and we predict for him a brilliant future in the practice of his profession.

Resolutions of Respect.

At the meeting of Hiram Lodge, No. 4, A. Y. M., held Thursday evening, the committee heretofore appointed reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Hiram Lodge, No. 4:

BRETHREN: Inasmuch as it has pleased the Great Architect of the universe, in his infinite wisdom and mercy, to permit the "all devouring sythe of time" to invade our ranks and cut the brittle thread and launch our beloved brother, Lee S. Church, into eternity, there to await our coming; be it

Resolved, That in his death this Lodge has lost a faithful member and a brother worthy of the name of a Mason; that this Lodge deeply regrets his untimely death, and his brethren mourn; and

Resolved, That this lodge sympathize with the bereaved family and mourning friends in their affliction; that in their affliction we are reminded "that in the midst of life we are in death" and "from dust we came and to dust we must return." Be it further

Resolved, That we cherish his memory in our archives, that a page of our records be dedicated to his memory, that these resolutions be published in our city papers, that a copy thereof be sent to his family.

For the Season of '94.

The distilleries in this section are beginning operations for the season of 1894. The first mash was made at the Old Taylor distillery on Thursday, the Cedar Run distillery will commence running December 1st and the J. N. Blakemore house on Thursday next, the 15th. The season will likely be a very short one, as the whisky market is very dull.

W. A. McGuire, a well-known citizen of McKay, Ohio, is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years and the best results and always keeps a bottle on hand. He is the head of a large family and he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon affected a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by PHIL CARPENTER, South Side Druggist.

It is the most desirable train for New England resorts, connections being made in the Union Depot in Washington, with the Colonial Express running through to Boston which reaches New Haven 4:10 p.m., New London 5:30 p.m., Providence 7:15 p.m. and Boston 8:30 p.m. The F. Politics.

Amidst the changes of politics and the disappointments of political ambitions, it is gratifying to know that the sun still shines—provided, it isn't a cloudy day. Why should man vex his soul over the shadowy ephemera of office? Don't we all know that politicians will lie and cheat and steal if it is necessary to win? That is, if they can't get into office any other way. Don't understand us to say that all politicians will lie, cheat, &c.—for that would be unfair and too broad—but generally, mostly, on the whole, a politician that is in a tight place will wink at acts that in business life he would call by bad names.

We have known good men, church members, men that would not take advantage of you in a trade for all the earth, tell white lies to benefit some political party to which they belong. It is sad that this is so, but is so, and more's the pity.

In the general upheaval of politics, this is a good time to confess sins and promise to do better. The defeated are in a penitent mood and the successful are softened and ready to forgive and forget. Can't all come together on a common ground and be ready to drive the money changers from the temple of liberty and introduce honesty and uprightness as the best incentives of action? Let us try.

The fishing season is rapidly drawing to a close. The dull, cold, raw days of November are at hand, and down under the rocks and in the deep holes the bronzed back bass are making their winter beds. Never before have so many and so handsome fish been caught in Elkhorn and Kentucky river as this fall. If the nets, seines, traps and spears could be suppressed for one more year, everyone could get fish as a prime article of food. It is a delicious, delicate, dainty appetizer and a fine brain supply. Lots of souls need more brains just now.

Diphtheria appears to be on the decrease now in the city. It has done sad work in some households and caused fear and apprehension in others. What diphtheria is, and what its unmistakable symptoms, perhaps the doctors can tell. We don't know. Colds, tonsilitis, laryngitis and other throat afflictions, all concentrate into diphtheria when the latter is epidemic. What's the difference if the trouble is cured or proves fatal? A rose by any other name smells as sweet.

As the leaves fade and fall and the wind comes soighing and sighing through the trees it brings to memory the days ago when footsteps sounded on the streets of Frankfort that long ago ceased to be heard. Who doesn't remember Col. Rennick and his cane; who doesn't remember Uncle Nels. Alley and his sneeze; who doesn't remember Dr. Mills and his nervous laugh; who forgets Uncle Billy Gray and his tooth pick; who can't remember Dick Tate and his jokes; who forgets Tom Hefner and his butter mills and onions; who can wipe out Uncle Johnnie Baltzell and his cane; what fisherman can't recall Uncle Jack Bibb and his frog bait; who dare forget the passenger on passing train that couldn't wait till Uncle Wm. Callery went down in the cellar to get him a drink; who forgets Uncle Jno. Henderson and his low wheeled vehicle; who can ignore the time when Mr. Swigert's house got very hot; but why repeat the things that bring back to us the dear, delightful, precious memories of the good old times and good people gone beyond recall? We can't live over but once. The Frankfort of the past is beyond mortal touch, except as we wipe off the dust and bring the old pictures once more to the light.

More than a hundred souls who gave to Frankfort its light and life twenty years ago are now resting in the shade on the other side of the dark river. Twenty years hence the men of to-day will have followed them.

The glimpses of better times, of days when labor will have its reward and capital get a chance for investment, are coming to us through the rifted clouds of depression. The light can't break on the country any too soon.

Rose Coghlan.

That sterling combination of players known as the Coghlan Company will begin an engagement at the Opera House, Saturday, Nov. 17, presenting here for the first time their production of Sardou's brilliant comedy, "Diplomacy." Miss Rose Coghlan deserves the success she has achieved by her revival of this play, which has possibly never had a more artistic representation. Each and every character is entrusted to an actor or actress of recognized ability, and in consequence a perfect performance may be looked for. An exchange says: "Diplomacy" is in many respects the strongest of Sardou's works. It combines all the qualities which are essential in a thoroughly successful play—ingenuity of plot, simplicity and yet effectiveness of construction, diversity of action, sequence and consequence in incidental and episodic illustration, possibility and plausibility, individualization of character, much human sympathy and sustained dramatic interest. In the very first scene of the play the thread of the story is taken up and it is never dropped until the final curtain falls. "Diplomacy" differs considerably from Sardou's later plays. When he wrote this fine comedy he had no actress or playhouse in view, and in consequence his characters are constructed on the lines of truth. There is no centralization of situation or dialogue, each and every part being complete in itself. "Fedora," "Theodora," "La Tosca" and "Cleopatra" are one part plays, and doubt they have paid Mr.

Sardou better than "Diplomacy" or "A Scrap of Paper," yet they have added nothing to his fame as a dramatist. "Diplomacy" has enjoyed a long life. It was first produced in Paris under the title of "Dora." The American rights were purchased by Mr. Lester Wallack and produced, by him at his theatre in New York City, on which occasion Miss Rose Coghlan created (in this country) the part of the Countess Zicka, with which she has ever since been identified. Revivals of "Diplomacy" have been numerous, but none of them have been accorded the favor bestowed upon the Coghlan Company's production. Miss Coghlan's portrayal of the subtle, crafty and cunning Russian adventuress has gained her much applause. In all the cities where she has appeared in the past the critics claim it is her greatest characterization.
